Success in the Industry 4.0 Award competition

This year, our company participated in the Industry 4.0 Competition organized by the Confederation of Industry and Transport of the Czech Republic. In this competition, the projects of companies were evaluated which, with the help of technologies and approaches of Industry 4.0, gained competitive advantages and become inspiration in their fields.

The BD SENSORS project was selected as one of the top five in 2020!

The winning projects will be presented at autumn conference in front of the Assembly of the Confederation of Industry.

They said about us:

- „An example of a very good gradual implementation of the Industry 4.0 concept in a medium-sized company. In addition to the positive effects in terms of costs, the undeniable effect is the gradual expansion of the digital skills of existing employees, where everyone actively participates in the digital transformation of the company in their own way.“
- „The project is an ideal example of the implementation of Industry 4.0 in a medium-sized company. It is a well-thought-out, strategically and technically perfectly managed solution down to the last detail, which can be an inspiration for other Czech medium-sized and small companies.“

An article about BD SENSORS in the national newspaper

At the end of July, an article about our company was published in the national Deník, dealing mainly with technical innovations. You can read it on our website, social networks, or in printed form on the bulletin board.
