

Corporate news

► New housing

Our XMPi, XMPci and XMD precision transmitters have a new housing. The change compared to the original case lies mainly in its dimensions. Furthermore, the setting of sensors is solved by two buttons instead of the original three. In addition, no tools are needed to control them, as the functions will be confirmed by pressing these buttons simultaneously.

